FRENCH MARIONETTES ENTERTAIN WITH THE FAMOUS "BLUE BIRD"

Last Night's Performance Delights Enthusiastic Audience.

CHILDREN ENJOY "UNCLE WIGGILY"

Jean Gros Exhibits Strings—Incidental Music Pleasing.

Jean Gros' Marionettes, presenting Maeterlinck's "Blue Bird" in the McCullough Gymnasium last night, received high applause from an enthusiastic audience. An equally enthusiastic group of children were delighted with the marionette performance of "Uncle Wiggily" in the afternoon.

Puppets, very obedient to the strings of their efficient puppeters, moved convincingly about settings cut down to their proportions, creating in those watching an optical illusion which received a great shock when, at the end of the play, M. Jean Gros appeared, seeming a veritable giant among lilliputians.

Of all the marionette characters from "The Blue Bird," including Mummy and Daddy Tyl, Tyltyl and Mytyl, Fairy Berylune, the souls of Cat, Dog, Light, Fire, Bread, Rabbit, Pig, Cock, Bull and Goat, the Juggler received heartiest applause and it was he whom M. Gros chose to exhibit after the performance, giving a demonstration of puppeter methods that surprised and delighted an audience that had been mystified and pleased before.

The scenes—The Woodcutter's Cottage, The Land of Memory, The Forest and The Palace of Luxury—were beautifully and delicately executed. The incidental music with harp, violin and musical saw, was an added pleasure.

Surprisingly complete in equipment and completely delightful in performance, Jean Gros' Marionettes scored a triumph here yesterday to add to their many successes in other parts of the nation.

PROFESSOR FREEMAN MEMORIAL SPEAKER

Professor Stephen S. Freeman addressed the college in the chapel service Armistice Day.

He pointed out the ease with which we overlook the horrors of the Great War, never to be forgotten by men who served in France. War is not exalting and glorious, but horrible. We should by no means forget the cause for which our men fought with these horrors—to save the world from German plutocracy and to reestablish liberty and democracy. He continued:

"Death is not the only means of sacrifice. Heroism is not a single act but months of enduring the hell of war. This means submission to the humdrum, weary conditions that war presents. Just as great is the suffering of men who returned broken in spirit from martial life.

"This spirit of sacrifice for the sake of democracy, though less noticeable, is as necessary in peace as in war. It is this sacrifice that makes the world go round."

Freshmen Football Men Attention

Freshmen football men and any others who have not already come out for the CAMPUS are urged to do so. There will be a meeting of all those interested in trying out for the literary board of the paper tomorrow afternoon at 4:30 in room 17, top floor of Old Chapel.

Middlebury Students May Be Asked To Help In Relief Work

After again communicating with the Red Cross authorities at Burlington, President Moody has received word that there may be a call for Middlebury College men to do relief work in Burlington and Waterbury. At present University of Vermont men are fulfilling the requirements for aid in these places but there may be need of auxiliary workers in a few days. All college men who would care to assist the Red Cross, if a call comes, are asked to leave their names with Dean Hazeltine.

WOMEN'S RUSHING ENDS THIS WEEK

Preferential Bidding With Saturday for Pledging.

Women's major rushing season closes this week with Saturday as Pledge Day. Preferential bidding will prevail this year as usual.

The last of the rushing parties takes place this evening, bringing an end to open rushing. On Thursday the only conferences between fraternity girls and Freshmen and transfers will be those held in Pearsons social hall Thursday afternoon and evening when each women's fraternity has an assigned twenty minutes during which Freshmen may come and receive whatever information and counsel they desire.

Friday will be known as sign-up day. Professor Charles F. Abbott will take charge of this procedure and will notify Freshmen and transfers who are being rushed of the time when each is to appear at his office, room 18, on the top floor of Old Chapel. At this time each girl will be given a printed slip on which to designate her first, second and third choice among the women's fraternities represented here. The list of those accepting each fraternity will be returned Saturday morning.

Formal invitations to membership will go out on the afternoon mail and must be answered immediately. At five o'clock Saturday, all rushing regulations will cease and pledging will be held early in the evening. From then until the major rushing season next fall, open bidding will prevail, which means that any fraternity may rush, pledge and initiate any non-fraternity girl that it desires.

Band Accompanies Team To Burlington

Quick work by William Gazdagh '29 enabled the Band to accompany the team to Burlington on Saturday. Following the rally Friday night there was such a demand for the presence of the band at the game, that Mr. Gazdagh circulated a subscription paper and engaged a truck for conveyance of the members and their instruments.

The Middlebury musicians made a particularly good showing during the contest.

Between the halves the R. O. T. C. band of Vermont and the Middlebury band marched to the east end of the field where in combined formation they marched to the center of the field and played the "Loyalty March" and "The Star Spangled Banner." Together the bands consisted of one hundred pieces. The Middlebury band then marched to the center of the Vermont stand and played the Vermont alma mater, "Champlain," after which the Vermont band played "Gamaliel Painter's Cane" in front of the Middlebury cheering section.

Both bands have been under the direction of Mr. Joseph F. Lechnyr and the cooperation between the two organizations which he has effected has probably contributed to the friendly feeling which is now in evidence at the games between the two rival institutions.

WITTSTEIN TO MAKE SOPHOMORE DANCE COLORFUL AFFAIR

Allotment of Tickets Almost Sold—Novel Programs Planned.

This year's Sophomore Hop, which is to be given Nov. 23, at the Middlebury Inn, gives promise of being the most successful affair of its kind. From the arrangements made by the committee, a most delightful evening can be expected by those who attend.

The class of 1930 has engaged the ball-room of the Middlebury Inn for the occasion, and in doing so has secured practically the finest place of its kind in New England. A large floor in excellent condition, combined with a beautiful and stately Colonial atmosphere, renders the Inn very inviting for formal dances. The Junior Prom of last spring proved a great success, due largely to the fact that it was held there.

The committee has secured, at a great deal of expense, the services of Wittstein's Victor Recording Orchestra of New Haven, Conn. This group of harmonizers has played for proms at Yale, Brown, Vassar, Wellesley, Smith, Boston University, M. I. T., and many other eastern colleges and universities. In every instance it has met with nothing but the most favorable criticism. At Yale, especially, Wittstein has proved to be a great favorite, playing there at the most important social functions, year after year. The music that such a highly approved orchestra can afford will make the Hop an affair to be eagerly anticipated and later remembered with pleasure.

During the course of the ball a novelty dance is planned. The couples will dance as per program and the leader of the orchestra will call each couple, and as they are called they will leave the floor, the last couple remaining will receive an appropriate prize. During intermission the management of the Inn will serve refreshments.

Programs for the dance have not been given out yet. The committee is witholding a description of them from publication, but something new and unique is promised. They had their own artist plan and design the cover. Tickets for the dance have been fairly well sold out. The few that are left may be obtained from the various members of the committee or can be reserved by calling Val J. Goltry at the D. K. E. house.

RULES FOR SONG CONTEST ANNOUNCED

As announced in last week's issue of the Campus, the alma mater song contest is to be extended and is to have two parts. The final date for handing in words for the song has been set at February first. The best lyric will then be published and a similar contest for music will be run.

The rules for the lyric contest follow:

1. The words must be in dignified stanza form suitable to be sung at any formal or informal college gathering of undergraduates or alumni.
2. It should be applicable to both men's and women's colleges.
3. Any student, member of the faculty of alumnus is eligible to compete.
4. Preference will be given one good stanza over two lesser ones.
5. The contest closes on February first.
6. Contributions should be submitted to Alice Fales, Pearsons Hall; or W. Storrs Lee, Delta Upsilon House.
7. Composers must use pen name, with full name in envelope.
8. Compositions should be typewritten on typewriter size paper.

The CAMPUS will also be glad to receive lyrics for college songs other than an alma mater.

PANTHER LOSES TO OLD RIVAL AFTER HARD FIGHT

Vocational Guidance Committee Meets

Edgar C. Wiley, director of admissions and personnel, has appointed the following students to serve on the vocational guidance committee: Brooks, Lee, Pratt, Talbot, Penn, Gollnick, 28; Witt, Brush, Gould, '29; Simmons, '28, ex-officio.

The committee has discussed plans for the coming year in regard to securing experts of various fields that are of interest to college men. They considered plans for holding interviews, announcements of which will come in later issues of the Campus.

FACULTY ADOPTS RECOMMENDATIONS

"Preannounced Tests" Not To Include 15 Minute Quizzes.

The faculty, at a meeting held last Thursday afternoon, voted to adopt several recommendations of the curriculum committee relative to whole and half year courses and preannounced tests.

The most important change is that which provides that preannouncing tests include only those which require the major portion of the period.

The adopted recommendations, in full, are as follows:

Courses designated as year courses shal have no final examination listed at the close of the first semester and final examinations will be given at that time only in semester courses and in such other cases as shall be provided for by special action of the administration committee.

In view of the fact that this interpretation of the year course rule may not have been understood when such courses were designated, the faculty is asked to immediately notify the Registrar as to how their courses shall be designated, so that announcement may be made to the students and work be begun on the mid-year examination schedule.

In attendance rule 9 (a), on page 8 of the Regulations of Middlebury College, the words "preannounced test" will be interpreted to mean tests for which at least the major portion of a period is allowed and which would normally occur not oftener than once in three weeks. All such tests should be announced to the respective classes and to the Deans at least one week in advance of the day when they are to be given.

ALPHA MU OF CHI PSI TO HAVE NEW LODGE

Plans for the new Chi Psi Lodge, recently completed by E. N. Wheeler of New York City, designate a three story building which will provide dormitory accommodations for 25 men.

The new lodge which is to be located on the south side of South street between the Delta Kappa Epsilon and Delta Upsilon houses, will be of the same material as Old Chapel, Painter and Starr halls and will be of an architecture which will harmonize closely with the present campus buildings.

The contract is now being let and work is to start immediately upon its award. The building is planned to be ready for occupancy by the fall of 1928.

Middlebury on Short End Of 13 to 7 Score.

BLUE SCORES IN FOURTH QUARTER

Palmer, Guarnaccia and Johnson Shine For Losers.

(By D. FRANCIS HOWE)

In a game which was a fight all the way, the Green and Gold defeated Middlebury on Centennial Field, Burlington, Saturday. Vermont showed unexpected strength and although practically all the breaks of the game really deserved to win. The old saying that comparative scores meant nothing when these old rivals came together, was certainly proved Saturday.

Only in the last quarter did the Panthers outplay their opponents. In this period the Blue showed her only real form. After a march down the field from her own 22 yard line, Palmer went over for our only touchdown and Webber added the point from placement.

The Vermont backfield ran wild aided by the fine work of their fast charging line which opened up hole after hole through which the backs slipped for long gains. Estabrook at quarter and Conway at half, gave fine exhibitions of broken-field running. In the line, Winchenbach, Sirois, and Levine played great games and stopped the Middlebury backs time after time on line of scrimmage.

For Middlebury, Palmer at end played a great game. His tackling was hard and sure. Time and again, when he could not possibly get the runner, he piled up the interference, leaving the man with the ball to the secondary defense. In the second quarter, he showed pretty work, when after rushing in and being supposedly picked off by a protecting halfback, he succeeded in blocking Smith's punt. He was also on the receiving end of a beautiful pass which went for Panther's longest gain.

The Blue and White backfield deserves plenty of credit for their fine defensive work. Johnson, at half, made tackle after tackle as did Hinman, Guarnaccia and Gollnick. All through the game Johnson stood out with his great tackling. Guarnaccia at full, gained much ground on his line bucking, and it was he who set Middlebury's hopes high when he intercepted Smith's pass in the third period and ran 30 yards before being forced out of bounds on Vermont's 43 yard mark. These hopes were short lived however, because a few moments later, Conway snatched a pass almost off the ground, which Palmer juggled and dropped, almost into the Vermonter's hands. Hinman, Jones, Palmer, Gollnick, and Hendrix in their last game for the Blue and White, all put up a fine game, fighting every minute.

In the kicking department Huntington and Smith were about even, both getting off several punts for more than 60 yards. Smith kicked one which went over 70 yards. The strong wind hampered both kickers during parts of the game.

Vermont opened the scoring in the first period on their first break. After the Blue had received the ball on a

LEST WE FORGET

Since the Great War hundreds of millions of dollars have been spent on every conceivable type of War Memorial. Every city has its testimonial, ranging from the fifty-dollar billboard to the five million dollar cathedral. Colleges and universities annually, if not more often, are announcing the construction of huge, expensive memorials. Harvard has recently started garnering funds for a million dollar cathedral.

Such expenditure seems entirely futile. The money is not to be productive. The income from it is not to help in doing away with war or to make impossible further useless sacrifices of lives.

Few college buildings, such as the proposed Harvard memorial, are particularly artistic. They are not adapted for educational or spiritual advancement. Moreover, this type of commemoration is out of place in the twentieth century. Thinking people are no longer connecting God and War.

One of America's greatest needs, if peace is to be sought in the future, is the establishment of a peace fund. Would not Harvard's million dollars and the millions other institutions are expending be a hundred-fold more productive if spent in the actual prevention of war?

Unshamed, the damned dog gulped youth down,
As he had gulped before;
And, hunger still unsatisfied,
He looks about for more.

NOT SO DIFFERENT

College and post-college life, after all, are not as different as they are often portrayed to be. After acquiring a four years educational background, it is not likely that the student is going to undergo a complete renaissance. The society, the ideals, the mannerisms that we have become accustomed to will not depart immediately upon our taking up a life work.

During college we are forming a character and personality that we must carry through life. And the question as to whether the character is going to be appropriate or not is a timely one. College life is radical, as perhaps it should be, but it is well to bear the fact in mind that we may have to throw away some of our radical characteristics when we enter the exterior-college life. In doing so, will you have to throw away an acquired "self"?

To the unprejudiced, thoughtful fraternity man, there is little doubt that the rushing system, as carried out this year is close to a failure. Up to yesterday afternoon the interfraternity council has been merely a nominal institution. There is a score of ways in which fraternities can evade its rules, and still remain innocent. This would be true of any system. If the interfraternity council is to be a success, the rushing rules must be obeyed in spirit as well as in letter.

The entrance of these well-behaved, prayerful animals into Chapel services can appropriately be explained in the biblical quotation, "A little child shall lead them".

One of the principal benefits of the Contemporary Civilization course is that, while taking it, freshmen get their first convincing notion of their ignorance. Seniors need a C. C. course, too.

When fraternity partialities find a place in athletics, the athletic program of any institution is on the downward trend.

The most convenient way of cheapening the teaching profession is addressing pofessors by their first names.

EVA MARSHALL '28 SPEAKS AT Y. W. C. A.

The Young Women's Christian Association held its weekly meeting at its rooms last evening. Miss Eva Marshall, the speaker, told of her experiences with Child Welfare Work in New York City last summer. Her duties consisted of making arrangements for the vacations of children of the slums at the Fresh Air camp in Connecticut, clinical work to prepare them for camp, calling special cases to the attention of hospitals, and occasional social work with young people over 16 years of age. The welfare work is not affiliated with any religious denomination. Although this was Miss Marshall's first year at this work she ably demonstrated the satisfaction which can be gained by aiding less fortunate fellow men and women through social service.

COMMUNICATION

To the Editor of CAMPUS:

I believe that the following conclusions on college education, stated by Professor Richardson of Dartmouth, should be brought to the attention of every thoughtful Middlebury student.

1. The purpose of college is "the stimulation and development of those gifts of intellect with which nature has endowed the student, so that he becomes, first, a better companion to himself, second, a more efficient force in his contacts with his fellow men."

2. The rewards a student may expect to have gained from his four years at college are: "The surprise in finding that the intellectual life is, in the long run, pleasant rather than irksome; the recognition of a new resource not to be lost through life; the sense of power over one's mental equipment; the feeling of companionship with the great minds of the past; the establishment of points of contact with so many of those whom one meets in the work of the day."

CHARLES B. WRIGHT IS VESPER SPEAKER

"The Ideal Attitude Is That Of Faith That Endures."

Dr. Charles Baker Wright, Professor Emeritus of English, spoke at Vespers Sunday on the mysteries surrounding us and the attitude toward them that wisdom would suggest. He said in part:

"Time, space, creation, death, life and God are mysteries; compelling fascinating, mysteries which the mind must face. There is no way of escape, but there is a vast difference in the attitudes of approach.

"They may be met by despairing ignorance saying, 'I do not and I cannot konw,' or with eager questioning which shows nobility and promise; but the ideal attitude is that of faith that endures as though seeing him who is invisible.

"Do your thinking in the presence of God, do it in a spirit of reverence, and you will not go far astray, but will be led to clear seeing and perfect trust.

"Faith is effective everywhere, in the political world it serves as a fire to ambition, in the medical field it is essential both to healing and being healed, even in commerce it is necessary for most business is built on credit. Doubters do not achieve, sceptics do not contribute or cynics create for all rich production is built on faith.

"Suffering and evil breed more doubt than anything else, but how can they affect belief in God? There are just two ways to explain suffering and evil; when all is known all will be justified, or else there is no God, for belief in a malevolent God is no longer possible. We know so little of God that we can not judge his works and must trust him always.

"I wish you every joy in the years that are to be; health, happiness and material success, but more than these I want you to be men and women of faith, trusting the souls invincible surmise, believing much and not believing little.

Interfraternity Conference To Meet November 25-26

New York, Nov. 11.—The Interfraternity Conference, annual gathering of delegates from practically every men's fraternity at American colleges and universities, will meet at the Hotel Pennsylvania here Nov. 25 and 26. More than 200 delegates, representing 60 different fraternities and coming from a hundred institutions of learning, will be present when the conference is called to order by Judge William H. Bayes, chairman of the interfraternity organization.

A number of college presidents and a score of deans and professors from all sections of the country will meet with the fraternity delegates for a mutual discussion of collegiate problems. Among the colleges to be represented will be Illinois, Yale, Cornell, Columbia, Penn State, Rutgers, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Michigan, and many others.

First among the subjects for general discussion will be the question of scholarship, for the Interfraternity Conference has been actively cooperating with college ofcials in an attempt to better the scholastic standing of students. Other problems to come before the meeting will be the movement for economy in education, the fraternity's relation to the parents of its members, the proper development of freshmen.

Much to everybody's disgust the five minute bells before classes have not been heard this fall at Hepburn Hall. As a direct result many half-cuts have been recorded in the Assistant Dean's office against the names of some of the young men who live in that dormitory. It is too bad when bells are already there, enough electricity cannot be supplied to ring them.

Editorial

It has seemed advisable to devote this issue to the interests of War Service for several reasons. The war and its needs are commanding increasingly the attention of and the services of men and women the country over, and aside from the demand for foodstuffs and munitions of war, the greatest problem before the American people is the proper care of our soldiers and sailors.

VARSITY HARRIERS LOSE; FROSH WIN

Wood of U. V. M. Varsity and Davis of Frosh Take Firsts.

U. V. M. snatched victory from the hands of the Panther harriers last Saturday at Burlington, by the narrow margin of one point, winning the meet 27-28. Wood of the Vermonters finished first in easy style, leading the field by a good 100 yards. His time was 15 minutes 16.4 seconds, only a few seconds above the course record. He displayed no signs of fatigue, sprinting the last 150 yards, and probably could have established a new record had he been pushed.

Captain Donald, of the Blue team, was the first of the Panthers to cross the tape, finishing second to Wood. Roe of U. V. M. was third, 50 yards behind Donald. The next two men were the deciding factors of the race; Arnold of the Catamounts was followed closely by the Middlebury runner, Dalton, who sprinted the last fifty yards in a vain effort to win; the line was crossed with the contestants only a few feet apart. The next four places were captured by Butler, Miller, Sheldon, and Cleveland, all of Middlebury, and running in a group. The remainder of the Vermont men came in, a long distance behind and widely scattered; they were, Hannon, Morse, Collins, Elliot, and Martinetti.

Charles Arnold a star performer on the Middlebury varsity squad was taken ill the night before the meet and was unable to compete Saturday. If he had been able to run the results would have been greatly affected.

Freshmen Win 26-29.

The Panther cubs fared better in their run against the Green youngsters, last Saturday, by defeating them 26-29. There was close running in some instances, but the leader, Davis, of U. V. M., had little difficulty in finishing first. Second and third places were taken by Hanson and Thayer of Middlebury, followed by Bacincato and Blakley of Vermont.

Amerman, Cox, Sanzo, and Afflec of Middlebury, took sixth, seventh, eighth, and ninth, respectively.

This meet marks the close of the season for the Panther harriers, having had three meets and winning none. The squad was handicapped with much green material, but their showings against the strong R. P. I., Williams, and U. V. M. teams showed much promise. The Frosh had only one meet, which was with U. V. M. Saturday. Many of the men who competed with the yearlings this fall will figure much in the strength of the varsity next season.

NO WORD YET FROM NORWICH.

No word has been received from Norwich, to date, but it is expected that there will be no game with the team this season. Northfield and the regions around it have suffered greatly from the flood and it will take some time before things will revert back to normal. Practically all the cadets from Norwich are on government relief duty.

Tea Dance at Middlebury Inn.

The management of the Middlebury Inn held the first of a series of tea dances for the Middlebury College students last Wednesday afternoon from 3:30 until 5. About ten couples attended. Tea was served. If these affairs prove to be popular, they will become a weekly occurence.

PANTHERS LOSE TO OLD RIVAL

kick by Smith, Gollnick threw a pass to Hinman for 20 yards. Two line bucks netted but two yards. Then Wally threw a flat pass to Hinman which Macomber intercepted and ran 55 yards for the U. V. M. first touchdown. Conway's try for the point went went wide. This completed the scoring for the first half.

Shortly after the second half opened, Huntington kicked to the Middlebury 48 yard line where the ball was downed by McNary. On the first play, Conway reeled off 20 yards off tackle. Macomber added 12 more through guard. Then a series of line bucks, with Estabrook and Conway carrying the ball, brought it to the 15 yard line. On the third down Estabrook tossed a pretty lateral pass to Conway who went over for their second touchdown. Here Vermont received their second break of the game. On the try for point after touchdown, the pass from center went far over the head of Conway who was to try a dropkick. He raced back to the 30 yard line, picked up the ball, and with the Panther linemen bearing down on him, threw a hurried pass which Estabrook caught just over the goal line. This gave the Green and Gold their other point.

The last quarter was Middlebury's practically all the way. Shortly after the period opened, a pass by Estabrook was intercepted on the 5 yard line by Johnson who ran it back to the 22 yard line marker before he was tackled. After a series of line bucks, Guarnaccia made it first down on the 30 yard line. Then a pretty pass, Gollnick to Palmer netted about 40 yards more. From kick formation Gollnick made 8 yards around left end. Guarnaccia went through center for first down. After another smash at center, which went for only a yard, Palmer was given the ball on an end around play, going over for Middlebury's only touchdown. Here Webber went back into the fray and scored the extra point by sending the ball over the bar from placement.

The game was one which breaks would decide and the fact that Vermont received most of these helped them out materially, even though the breaks did seem to be against her the Blue and White fought tooth and nail to the end, and never once weakened. Due credit is given to Vermont for their fine display of courage and good sportsmanship.

Director of Athletics, Coach Arthur M. Brown, has definitely announced the cancellation of the Middlebury-Providence game which was to have been played at Providence this Saturday. The reason for this action was that satisfactory methods of transportation for the team are not available, due to the recent flood disaster. The team would have to go in a round about way, by rail, bus or automobile, walking considerably in some instances. The trip would take two or three days of difficult traveling, making the team physically unfit for the game.

JUNIOR WOMEN HAVE LEAD IN HOCKEY

The junior women defeated the sophomores 8 to 2, in the first of the championship hockey games, Monday afternoon. The sophomores started out well, but they fell down completely in the second half. Their forward line was fairly strong, but the back was weak, with the exception of Batchelder who played a fine game. For the juniors, Sibley scored five goals, Avery two, and Freeborn one. Ladd, as goal-keeper, showed up very well. Sibley was clever at the bully, and placed her goals very nicely. Manty's clean hits and neat dodging were a big help.

HAMILTON SCORE STILL UNDECIDED

E. K. Hall Cannot Act Upon Score Until Formally Requested.

From an interview with Coach A. M. Brown regarding the Hamilton game unsettlement, it was learned that nothing definite has been done about the matter. E. K. Hall, chairman of the committee on rules, said that to render a decision would be easy if it was agreed by both parties implicated that a decision be rendered.

Both parties agreed, but Hamilton has neglected to make a formal request for a decision. There is no doubt as to the illegality of the score as it is officially stated, 12-13, in Hamilton's favor. The referee has admitted his error, Hamilton has acknowledged it, sport critics have recognized it, and E. K. Hall also upholds Middlebury's argument. The game therefore is a victory for Middlebury, 12-9, although records will not show it until Hamilton takes the proper action, by requesting Mr. Hall to make the final decision. If nothing more is done about it, the game will probably be considered as "no contest."

Baboon To Arrive This Week

Cuts from Boston delayed in the mails following the floods, and proofs from Burlington held up have necessitated postponement of the arrival of the first issue of the Blue Baboon; but special effort is being made to have the edition in Middlebury by the end of the week.

Seattle, Wash.—(IP)—Stanford 13, Washington 7. Some laid the defeat to a dumb forward pass attempted by the Washington backs behind their own goal.

But many believe Washington lost out in the Pacific Coast race because of the loss of Washington's treasured rally trophy, its Siren.

No one is yet quite sure what became of the trophy, but Stanford students are strongly suspected. It happened like this.

Early Monday afternoon before the game word came from the south that Stanford undergraduates were planning to capture the Washington Siren. Washington student officials immediately appointed a guard of two heavy undergraduates, and made preparations for having the Siren secreted.

The next morning both trophy and guards were gone. A search was instituted, and on Tuesday evening the guards, Mel Faget and Ken MacKenzie returned, reporting that they had been kidnapped by five men in a car bearing a California license, their Siren taken from them, and they themselves bound and left in an abandoned barn, all on Monday night. They released themselves Tuesday and made their way back to the campus.

Alumni and students of the university immediately instituted a search watching all highways out of the state, both north and south, but nothing could be discovered of the culprits. The rally was held as usual on Friday evening, despite the loss, but there was something lacking. And when the Cardinals lined up against the Washington eleven on Saturday, there was a sense of dispair in the very atmosphere.

The game was lost, nor has the Siren yet been found.

Providence, R. I.—(IP)—Tradition was broken at Brown university here when William J. Cashman, non-fraternity man, was elected president of the senior class.

Cincinnati, O.—(IP)—Frank Shelton, Jr., student at the University of Cincinnati has broken the record for time taken to learn to fly.

An airplane company in conjunction with the University recently held a contest, the winner of which was to receive free piloting lessons from the company. Shelton was runner up in the contest, but received the opportunity when the winner was declared ineligible because he could not pass the necessary physical examination.

Shelton never had been in an airplane before, but it took him just five hours and 34 minutes to learn to fly by himself. He thus broke the record established recently by a mechanic at Dayton. On the last trip of the afternoon, just as it was getting dark, the Cincinnati student took the plane up by himself, landing in perfect form.

The lessons were given him, by the use of the dual control method—that is, the regular pilot drives the machine with one set of levers, while the student uses another set, copying the actions of the pilot.

Shelton now hopes to earn a regular pilot's license.

McGill Students Lose Themselves In Cemetery

A word of harps and spotless white wings was almost the fate of two McGill men yesterday. The two students one a freshman and the other a sophomore, live in Outremont North, and tried to take a short-cut over the mountains to the stadium in order to see the McGill-M. A. A. A. game from good seats. Unfortunately for them the recent rains had muddled up their paths, and they were forced to abandon them for drier ground. In doing so they soon found themselves in a region full of tombstones and realized they were completely lost.

Turn wherever they might they were confronted by memorials to the shades of the departed. Although it was broad daylight, yet it was already too late for the game and a cemetery is no place to discuss things at any time of the day. They kept wandering around from one cemetery path to another. Night set in and they still found themselves on phantom territory.

The younger of the two, the freshman, began to whimper from cold and fear. His friend tried to comfort him sophomoric confidence, although he too shook slightly.

Just about eight o'clock they came in sight of the care-taker's hut. The caretaker, who heard their approaching footsteps, came outside with a lantern in his hand. The students, seeing a figure clad in white (the man was wearing a smock) thought it was a ghost and fled. The caretaker believing them to be either thieves or body-snatchers, grabbed up his Winchester and gave chase.

Fear lent wings to the students and they fairly flew over the ground. They soon reached the St. Catherine Road Gates and ran all the way down to Outremont Avenue.

When interviewed last night by a "Daily" reporter they said they did not believe Euclid's theorem that the shortest distance between two points is a straight line.

Berkeley, Calif.—(IP)—The crowd at the Californit-Montana game here was treated to three football games at once. Besides the contest in the bowl itself, the Stanford-California Freshman game at Palo Alto was broadcast by radio loud speakers, while the Stanford-Washington game at Seattle was demonstrated play by play on the bowl score board.

Syracues, N. Y.—(IP)—The Syracuse and Colgate football teams found it difficult to prepare for their annual battle last Saturday because of almost a foot of snow which covered their respective gridirons. Both elevens had to do some indoor practice while their fields were being cleared of the heavy blanket.

Some call it mellowness . . .

SOME say that Camel is the mellowest cigarette ever made. Some that it's mild and smooth. It's really all good things in one, and that is why it is supreme upon the pinnacle of modern favor. Camel's popularity today is the largest that any cigarette ever had.

And, it costs something to make this kind of a smoke. It costs the choicest tobaccos that money can buy, and a blending that spares neither time nor expense. Each Camel cigarette is as full of value as the world of tobacco can give.

You can be sure of smoking pleasure, serene and full, in these quality cigarettes. Smoke all of them you want; they simply never tire the taste.
